

E
d
d i
e

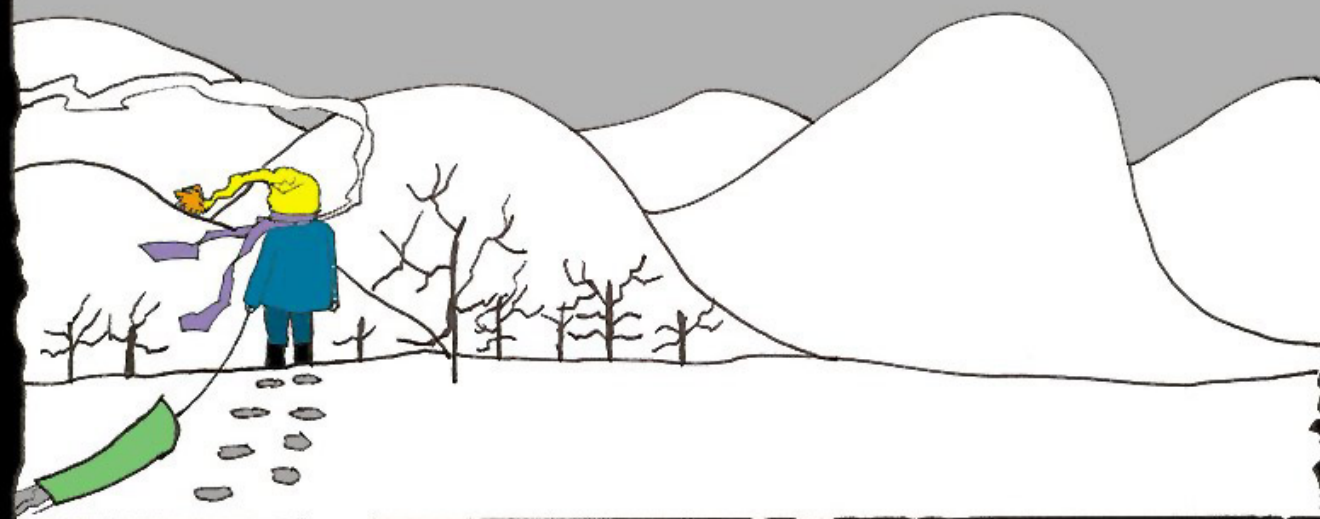

and
the Y
e t
i

Little Eddie took his sled and walked out into the hills behind his house.

He wanted to climb those peaks and ride his sled all the way back to his backyard.

He trudged
through the snow.

He thought that he saw something out
of the corner of his eye.

He felt like he was being watched.

But the only thing around was the wind howling.

Eddie made his way up
the first hill.

He only stopped once
to catch his breath.

When he reached
the top of the hill...

...The snow seemed to stand up right there in front of him.

The snow became taller and taller!

Finally, two coal-
black eyes stared
down upon him!

"I am a Yeti.
What is your name?" The creature
muttered.

"What are you?"
Little Eddie
asked the creature.

"I'm Eddie,"
the little boy
said.

"Where did you come from?" Eddie asked.

"I've always been here,"
the creature said.

"I've watched you for two years and I know what you want," the creature said.

"You want to climb those mountains and ride your sled from the highest peak."

"How did you know that?!?! That's Impossible!" Eddie said, astonished.

"Impossible? Much like meeting a Yeti in the woods is impossible?"

And with one strong lift, the creature placed Eddie on his shoulders...

...And they were off!

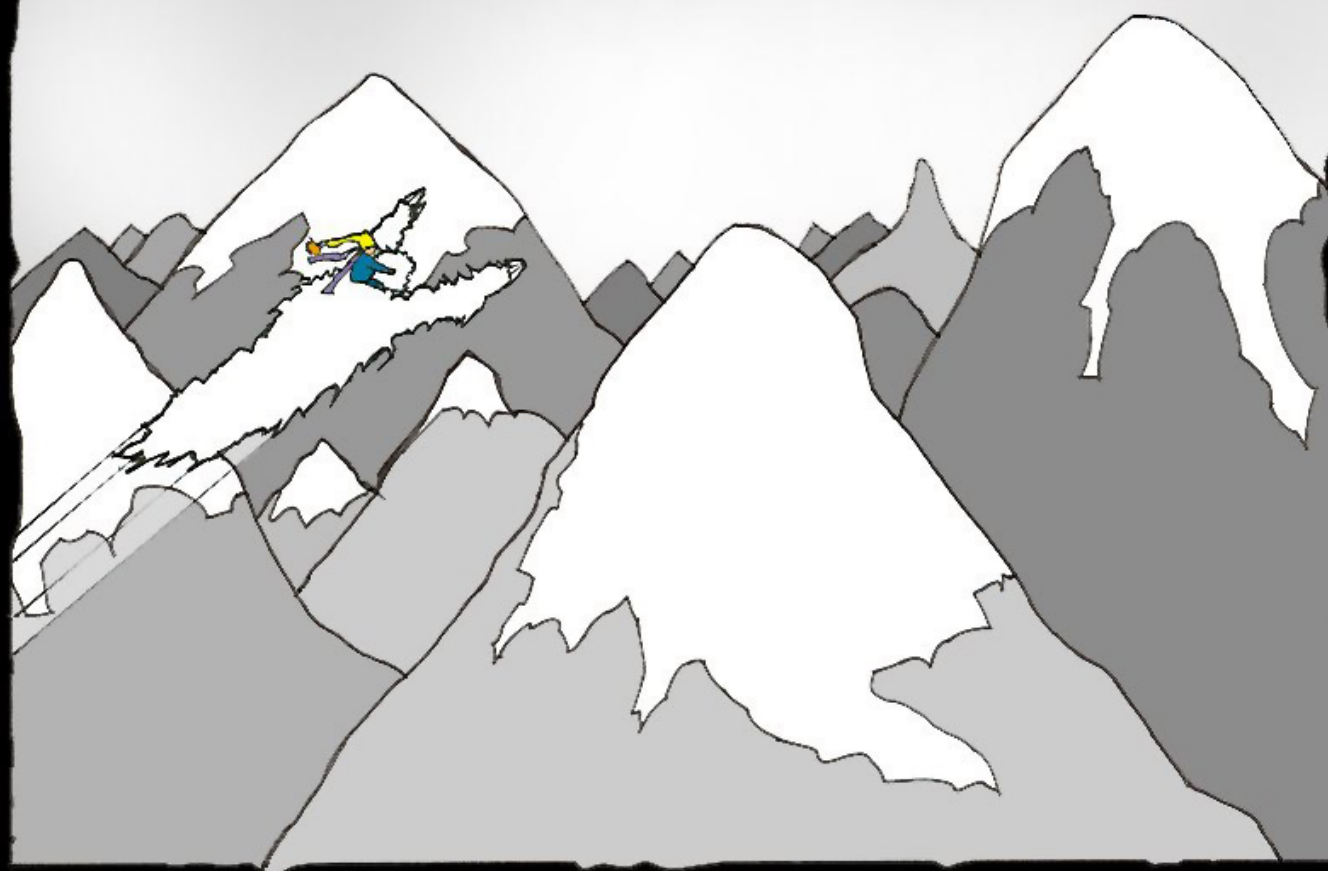

Streaking through the winter sky!

Eddie and the Yeti flew over the mountain peaks!

Eddie could see the whole world open up
below him!

Blinking his eyes,
Eddie could hardly believe that his dream was coming
true!

The Yeti flew on for miles until finally coming to a stop high up on a distant peak.

Eddie walked to the edge and looked over to see the world below.

The farms in the valley below looked tiny.

"Nice view," the Yeti said,
"It is my home now."

The Yeti took Eddie higher up!

They climbed
so high...

"Are you ready?"
the Yeti asked.

"Ready for what?"
Eddie asked.

And Eddie
and the Yeti roared down the slope!

Up...

...And
down
they went!

Over and over again!

Until they covered every peak...

...From the highest to the lowest!

After a nice fish
dinner in the Yeti's
cozy cave...

...It was time for
Eddie to go home.

"Thank you so much, Yeti!" Eddie hugged
him.

"Will I see you again?" Eddie asked.

The Yeti
smiled.

Then the sun appeared in the gray sky.

And then the Yeti sent Eddie on his way!

"MOM!" Eddie yelled, running through the backdoor.

"My! Where have you been?"

"I bet I would," Eddie's mom winked at him.

"You would not believe me if I told you," Eddie said.

the end

